

statements

You may notice that the statement format and some descriptions have changed slightly. However, the content has remained the same.

In addition, monthly checking account statements will now include history for all accounts.

Here is a breakdown of some changes you may notice:

- 1 - Account numbers look different. They now display as the full account number rather than just the suffix.
- 2 - Regular Shares will be listed as Regular, and Additional Shares will be labeled Shares.
- 3 - The make and model of vehicles are no longer displayed in auto loan descriptions.
- 4 - Credit Card account numbers look different and may be listed as an installment loan.
- 5 - HSAs are spelled out as Health Savings Accounts.
